Indications for use
The BARDEX® Nasopharyngeal Airway is intended for intubation of the upper airway.

Warnings
- This device is a non-sterile product.

Contraindications
- This device should not be used in the patients with a history of anaphylactoid symptoms caused by natural rubber.

Potential Adverse Events
- Mucosa damage, latex allergy.

Precautions
- Natural rubber may rarely induce allergic symptoms such as itching, rash, hives, swelling, fever, dyspnea, asthma-like symptoms, blood pressure decreased, and shock. If these symptoms develop, immediately stop use of the product and consult a physician for appropriate measures.
- This device is for medical use.
- This device should not be used for any other purpose than instructions for use.
- Inspect this device and its packaging for any damage or defect prior to use. Do not use if there is any sign of damage or contamination in the package.
- After use, dispose as medical waste in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.